As providers try to recover from the pandemic and prepare for a post-pandemic world, having resources will be critical. One source of funding that many providers are not aware of is federal tax credits. Both the Employee Retention Tax Credit (ERTC) and Families First Coronavirus Response Act (FFCRA) leave are programs where child care providers have a high probability of eligibility and can supply much-needed cash. Early Learning Ventures has engaged the Civitas Strategies Early Start team to share critical information on these credits including:

- how they work
- who is eligible
- and how you apply

A national expert from the team will review this information and also share how you can get help from Early Learning Ventures.
